On November 22, 1960 [REDACTED]
Forrest Hill, Maryland telephonically contacted the resident agency at Aberdeen, Maryland and furnished the following information. [REDACTED] is [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] has listened to sermons by the subject on the radio for quite sometime. The subject is President of The Christian Crusade, P.O. Box 977, Tulsa, Okla. The subject apparently publishes a religious pamphlet entitled "The Christian Crusade" and [REDACTED] received one of these pamphlets dated May, 1950. In addition she has corresponded with the Circuit Writers Inc., 110 Government Place, Cincinnati, 2, Ohio.

"The Circuit Writers, Inc." sent [REDACTED] upon her request an article or pamphlet entitled "30 out of the 95".
[REDACTED] advised that there is no date on this publication;
however, the substance of the publication is a claim by the author who is the subject of this matter that 30 ministers out of the 95 ministers who worked on the Revised Standard Version of the Bible have been cited by the Attorney General of the United States as Communists. [REDACTED] stated that there is a statement in this publication which refers any inquisitive person to the FBI for verification of the subject's claim on this matter. [REDACTED] stated that Dr. HARGIS attacks Communism and the National Council of Churches.
Apparently the subject maintains that the National Council of Churches is infiltrated by persons with Communistic tendencies.
Again he refers the inquisitive readers to contact the FBI for verification of his stand.

[REDACTED] was not clear as to the apparent connection between "Circuit Writers, Inc., Cincinnati, Ohio" and the subject; however, apparently she is of the opinion that the subject advertises on the radio broadcast pamphlets which can be secured from the Circuit Writers,

13 February 1961

In the fall of 1957, as guests of Emmanuel Demoya, Dominican Ambassador to the United States, both Hargis and his wife visited the Dominican Republic at Demoya's expense. There he met and conferred with Rafael Trujillo and other Dominican leaders. He supposedly inspected religious freedoms and the Dominican program to outlaw Communism. While there he obtained $10,000 support for his organization in return for published literature prepared by his organization. Upon return to the United States he gave radio broadcasts and published several articles in the Christian Crusade concerning his trip. As a result of this activity he first came under close scrutiny of the FBI, for possibly having violated federal registration laws, which require agents of a foreign power to register with the United States State Department. Close investigation was discontinued in 1958 and no information is available to determine if a decision was ever reached in the matter.

In February 1957, he appeared on a television program and was interviewed by Mike Wallace. During the program he aired anti-UN views.

During 1957-58, he had several articles published in the American Mercury Magazine, dealing with the operation of Bible balloons, his organization and a history of American Communist-front organizations.

The aims of his organization and himself have been alternately described in published literature and during personal interviews as:

To campaign against Communism

To combat Communism and liberalism in churches

The launching of the Bible carrying balloons

To deliver sermons and hold revivals throughout the United States

To teach the layman about Communism and how to combat it.

To oppose the National Council of Churches, World Council of Churches and the United Nations.

one could find such examples in the American Revolution, (sic) for instance. (He talks like Mongi Slim of Tunisia; he is downgrading rape and equating the American Revolution with the chaotic thievery and chaos of the new anti-colonial creations, like Indonesia, Iraq, Egypt, Ghana and Cuba.)

The brainwashers went so far in their efforts to gloss over documented barbarities, to present the Congo chaos in the best suburban light that they even tampered with and watered down direct eyewitness statements in Washington itself:

"... The Rev. D. L. Ellis just got here from the Congo and he wants to go back as soon as he can. (Then why did he leave?)

"... Most (of the refugees) had little more than the clothes on their backs.

"... Few of the 122 missionaries' families had experienced terror or violence. (Those who did are from a Baptist Mission station at Banza Manteke. (They are important.)

"... The sudden violence—blamed mostly on soldiers rebelling against their officers and swayed by rumors of Belgian atrocities (sic) has not discouraged the missionaries. (They must have had some reason for leaving?)"

The Reverend Ellis (obviously not of the fibre of a martyr?) made some overly discreet and supercautious admissions (to explain his odd combination of leaving one day and wishing to return the next?) and the Washington interviewer saw to it that the telltale lines were practically buried in the middle of the column: "The Ellises, Stuarts and Bottemillers were beaten and there was rape at the Baptist station. However, there was no lineup for this. It was just one man in each case." (Presumably that would make it all right?)

It is one thing to brainwash Suburbia, from a Washington bistro with only fragmentary wire-service intelligence at hand and quite another to record eyewitness reports or comments by recognized local African experts. Sir Roy Welensky, the Prime Minister of Britain's Central African Federation, North and South Rhodesia and Nyassaland, can safely be credited with such expertise. He accepts that Belgium had failed to prepare the Congo for independence (it took the United States 50 years to launch Philippine independence though the Filipinos had four centuries of Catholic-Spanish tutelage—certainly a moral basis superior to the cannibalism of Central Africa). But he also accepts that Belgium (and other colonial states) have been under "enormous political pressure to pull out of Africa." (The Kremlin and the United Nations Afro-Asian bloc, log-rolling in the best parliamentary style.) Welensky more than suspects Soviet machinations "to keep the forces of chaos moving, to allow the entry of Soviet influence and ultimately the establishment of yet another Soviet outpost."

Another competent local expert is found in the person of a prominent Congolese politician, Moïse Tshombe, Premier of Katanga, the richest of the Congo provinces. His break with Lumumba and Leopoldville is simply motivated by fear and distrust. This is what he said.

"... Lumumba has meticulously prepared the mutiny of the force Publique (the Army). The purpose was twofold—to disorganize army and administration in order to set up a personal dictatorship allied to Communism and to terrify the Belgians into leaving the Congo and so make way for technicians already chosen from the Eastern bloc.

This observation is supported by Europeans of the caliber of Dr. Mark Poole, noted for his research work among the Pygmies: "These outbreaks of violence have been too well synchronized to have come by chance. We never believed that a breakdown of law and order could be so complete."

3. The Internationalist Pattern Emerging

In this situation, with the Belgian authority crumbling as a calculated device, Lumumba promptly appealed to the United Nations. At least two red-tinged fledgling African states were behind him: Ghana and Guinea; they have interfered consistently ever since. The "solution" was to send in a military conglomerate, a crazy-quilt of neutralist police forces, as was done in Palestine. The immediate and avowed purpose was to relieve the Belgian paratroopers, who appeared in the nick of time and could have been quite adequate for local protection. A renewed "United Nations Mandate" to give the resident Belgians (who were bona-fide members of the U.N. after all) time to restore order and develop a viable Administration (like the U.S. in the Philippines) was both practicable and feasible—but the Belgians had to be gotten rid of! The anticipatory planning to that effect is evident in a curiously revealing Washington dispatch.

One of the more persuasive of the Washington Brainwashers (who has a pipeline into the State Department) made a probably involuntary but highly suggestive admission in a fulsome eulogy of the United Nations and Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld:

"Within 36 hours, the U.N. cable office was overwhelmed with requests for 27 countries—a command post to stave off disaster. Altogether, it was a precedent making night that has enlarged the scope of the U.N. to an extraordinary degree.

What has not been known until now is that Hammarskjöld was prepared to go ahead even if the U.N. Council had not voted an authorizing solution. In fact, he had long since started the wheels turning to try to cope with a situation he had foreseen in all its stark desperation (i.e., the effort of Belgian troops to restore order; presumably this had to be done under United Nations auspices—or not at all).

As a first move, Hammarskjöld sent Deputy Secretary Ralph J. Bunche to Leopoldville for the independence ceremony. Bunche has performed heroic labors in holding the line of U.N. authority ...

4. Self-Determination and Anti-Colonialism:

The United States has made use of the United Nations—and vice versa—to force the British from their Suez Canal position, the Israeli from the fruit of victory, the French from the Levant (and now North Africa) and the Dutch from Indonesia. Nothing was done, however, about Russia's own "colonialism," ranging brutally from Riga to Budapest.

political "jargon," little understood by even the most informed of our people, and with issues so obscure as to have little in common with reality. They are 'cat-challs' designed to impress the votes of a bewildered and trusting populace. Their authors know, or should know, that the rate of our national growth is dependent more than all else on the degree of freedom left for the uninhibited play of our individual initiative and creative energies; they know, or should know, that 'our national purpose' is simple and supportable by every American — the steady increase in our standard of life and adequate defense of that standard against all pressures at home or abroad; they know, or they should know, that the only 'new horizons,' to which we should as a nation now aspire, are not to our left or right but up — not horizontal but vertical — those which measure the well-being and happiness of all the people."

Science Versus Art, In Government

"And how, it might rightly be asked, would a statesman approach the problem, a solution of which directly concerns our 'rate of national growth,' the direction of our 'national purpose' and the 'new horizons' of our life?

"He would seek the answer in the basic and immutable principles of the science of government, not in the temporary expediences of popularity and adulation under the guise of the art of government. He would see a violation of the fundamental laws of freedom in our insatiably expanding federal bureaucracy with its growing controls over our daily lives."

Taxation & Paternalism

"He would see that if we reduced the monetary cost of the federal government, thus curtailing its bureaucratic power, we would, first: advance our economic growth, and consequent standard of living by lowering the extreme burden of taxation which threatens to reduce us all to a form of involuntary servitude, thereby releasing for constructive purposes our presently suppressed initiative and creative energies; second: ensure a sharp curtailment of the growing paternalism inherent in massive central government, thereby permitting us once again the freedom to determine the direction of our own lives and to remarshal our resources fully to exploit our opportunities; and third: provide us the chance to pass down to our progeny a solvent rather than a bankrupt nation."

FORECAST OF THE RUSSO - AMERICAN CONFLICT: 1856

"... It requires no sage to predict events so strongly foreshadowed to us all; still "Westward" will "the course of empire take its way." But the last act of the drama is yet to be unfolded; and notwithstanding the reasoning of political empirics, Westward, Northward and Southward, to me it seems that the people of America will, in some form or other, extend their dominion and their power, until they shall have brought within their mighty embrace multitudes of the Islands of the great Pacific, and placed the Saxon race upon the eastern shores of Asia. And I think too, that eastward and southward will her great rival in future aggrandizement (Russia) stretch forth her power to the coasts of China and Siam: and thus the Saxon and the Cossack will meet once more, in strife or in friendship, on another field. Will it be in friendship?? I fear not! The antagonistic exponents of freedom and absolutism must thus meet at last, and then will be fought that mighty battle on which the world will look with breathless interest; for on its issue will depend the freedom or the slavery of the world — despotism or rational liberty must be the fate of civilized man. I think I see in the distance the giants that are growing up for that fierce and final encounter; in the progress of events that battle must sooner or later inevitably be fought."

From a Paper by Commodore M. C. Perry, USN, read before the American Geographical and Statistical Society, at a meeting held March 6th, 1856.

A PETITION CALLING UPON THE CONGRESS OF THE UNITED STATES TO

OUTLAW THE COMMUNIST PARTY

We, the undersigned citizens of the United States, believing that the continued existence in our Nation of an admitted "fifth column" organization, pledged to support the revolutionary program of Soviet Russia rather than the Constitution of the United States is inimical to the continued welfare and security of the United States of America, do herewith call upon the Congress of the United States, to take whatever acts are necessary to make membership in the Communist Party a crime against the government of the United States, and further, to require that all persons teaching or spreading Communist propaganda immediately register as agents of a foreign government.

ened world . . . We have emphasized military containment, and for years it appeared that we didn't want to negotiate with the Russians, either to test their intentions or call their bluff.

"Meanwhile, they stopped nuclear testing unilaterally; they reduced their army unilaterally; they proposed total disarmament."

Is This Ignorance Or Naivete?

The above quote indicates both an ignorance of the total world conquest objective of Communism and a presumption that the Kremlin (not the Russian people) really wants peace. Time Magazine, reporting on the gathering of Communist leaders for the 13rd anniversary of the Bolshevik Revolution in Moscow, quoted Khrushchev as saying, "Peace is inevitable. War will not help us reach our goal—it will spoil it. We must rest on the position of coexistence and nonintervention, and eventually Communism will be in force all over the earth." This, and many other statements from the leaders of the international conspiracy clearly indicate that war with Communism at this time would be suicidal for them. When our leaders swallow their appeasement and disarmament propaganda they help carry out the Soviet plan for world domination. See WEEKLY CRUSADER Vol. 1, No. 3 for more on the Communists peace program.

As for the Kremlin stopping nuclear testing, there is absolutely no evidence to support this idea. Nor is there any indication that they have reduced their armies. In fact, Red Star, organ of the Soviet Defense Ministry, accused the western nations of relentless efforts to spy out their defense secrets. The report, as printed in the Tulsa World, Nov. 21, 1960 said, "The imperial beasts of prey seek to gather information on the places where rocket and nuclear weapons are produced and stored, on our scientific and technological discoveries and on the enterprises of the defense industry, railway and water transport." This hardly sounds like a nation disarming or even holding its status quo.

War Is Our Common Enemy

So apathetic is Stevenson about the aggression of Communism that he sees it as no danger at all. In fact, he suggests that they, and we, have a common enemy—the danger of war. His speech to the Democratic Party of Cook County, Illinois on May 19, 1960 was recorded in part in Political Affairs as follows: "For in this age, unprecedented in human history, all of us, Americans and Russians alike, have one common enemy. The enemy is the danger of war. We must defeat the enemy together." From this statement we would gather that appeasement must be carried on at any cost—even the cost of surrender perhaps!

While Kremlin spies and agents regularly roam the U.S. (a few even get caught) and transmit vital defense information and photos to Moscow, Mr. Stevenson sharply criticized Pres. Eisenhower for his handling of the U-2 incident and felt that we should have apologized for the flights.

Newspaper articles indicate that the Stevenson appeasement line has been his great effort for a number of years. The Baltimore Sun, June 11, 1955 carried this account of one of his speeches: "He said America may have to accept something less than perfection, (in peace negotiations—Ed.) 'but better than the alternative which is a sharpening and prolonging of the ugly, dangerous tension.'" We wonder how much less than perfection Mr. Stevenson would be willing to allow if it were in his hand to allow it!

Advocates Handouts To Kremlin

As to Matsu and Quemoy, it seems that Mr. Stevenson would be perfectly willing to hand them over to the Communists too. The Evening Star of April 12, 1955 published a part of a text of the former presidential candidate's Far Eastern Affairs speech in which he said, "I have the greatest misgivings about risking a third world war in defense of these little islands . . ."

Governor Stevenson also plainly expressed his contempt of the late Senator McCarthy and the important work he did for the security of the nation. In a text of a speech by Stevenson reported in the Washington Star March 7, 1954, he said, "We will await the final results with interest, and also the administration's apologies to the many innocent, loyal people who have been injured by this (the McCarthy hearings) unscrupulous, un-American numbers racket." After returning from abroad, Stevenson said on Sept. 15, 1953, ". . . Everywhere people think they recognize the dominant mood of America in what is called 'McCarthyism,' now a world-wide word. Inquisitions, purges, book-burning, repression and fear have obscured the bright vision of the land of the free and the home of the brave." Unless his attitude has drastically changed, he would be a good member of James Roosevelt's program to do away with the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

Says Be Nice To Communists

When Rear Admiral Adolphus Staton was on a special navy board to screen merchant ship radio operators, he found that a number of them were Communist Party members. As a result of his and Rear Adm. C. S. Hooper's warnings that Russia could not be trusted—despite its co-belligerency with the U.S.—and their opposition to Communist radio operators, they were ousted from the Navy. Stevenson, at that time a special assistant to Secretary of the Navy Knox, made the statement to Staton, "Admiral, I don't think that we should be too hard on the Communists."

PLANNED PAGANISM —

A CHRISTLESS CHRISTMAS

Christians in America are again this year being subjected to a Christless Christmas. The efforts to delete the Person of Christ from this blessed occasion are not only being carried on by those with direct commercial interests but also by the egg-head socialists and atheists who know that wherever true Christianity is loved and lived there is no room for socialism and its ultimate end — Communism:

The Plan to Ban is Growing.

The Christless Christmas has reached alarming proportions in many parts of our nation. The Sept. 1957 issue of National Republic reported that "Christmas observances have been banned in many localities . . . all of New Jersey; Sierre Madre, California; and Lake View, Illinois, where this year it is illegal to observe the greatest of all Christian events—the birth of Christ, our Lord, God. Images of the Christ child or of angels may no longer be exhibited and the singing of Christmas Carols is now prohibited by law or by official regulations and decisions."

The New Jersey program to ban Christ from the schools was well planned and carefully put into effect. A directive to the school principals, sent by the Superintendent of the Sayersville public schools — Mr. R. S. Pollack, advised the principals to gradually drop the customary observances in such a manner as to not incite the public. To assure that complete abolition of the Christ child was upheld he specified that there would be no image of Christ displayed, no "props" representative of angels and no singing of hymns such as "Silent Night," "Hark The Herald Angels Sing" and other accepted Christian hymns. If some "reactionary" teachers or parents insisted on a holiday observance, folk lore was to be substituted for the Biblical and time-honored Christmas message.

Attack Christmas in July

Part of the blame for the enactment of these laws can be laid to the feet of Christians who care so little about their government that they are silent about the candidates for office at the grass-roots level. Even so-called minor offices are important and, in the hands of the wrong man, can be misused and abused in short order. Another indictment is that these take-Christ-from-Christmas drives are launched in July when the Christmas spirit is at a low ebb compared with the regular Christmas season. Is it true that we need the beautiful music, the creative decorations, the manger scenes, etc. to make us concerned about our Christian heritage, ideals and principles? Can we be caught napping in July when we don't have all the trappings that make Christmas its meaningful season?

In 1957, five Protestant churches in Vicksburg, Michigan and Dover, New Jersey celebrated "Christmas in July" protesting against the commercialism of Christmas by non-Christians. This is perhaps an overly strong measure but the essential purpose must be appreciated.

Contrary to the glowing reports brought back to America by gullible dupes who have taken the Kremlin's guided tours or have visited the show-case cities of Red China, there is no freedom of religion in these lands. Wherever the long arm of Communism dominates there can be no room for Christ. Whole generations are being raised under the Communist banner without any conception of the Christ-child being born of a virgin — coming as the Savior of man. Because less than 50% of the youth of our nation ever darken the door of a church the rulings to ban Christian observances from the schools increase the probability that we, too, will raise coming generations without any concept of God's greatest gift to man.

Active in the drive to take Christ out of the schools has been the American Civil Liberties Union (See WEEKLY CRUSADER Vol. 1, No. 5). The traditional Nativity scene, erected for the past 30 years at Christmastime by the Lake View, Illinois high school art class, was protested by the American Civil Liberties Union and Jewish organizations so the sacred tradition was banned.

Christless Greeting Cards

Greeting cards, too, are tools of the subtle brainwashers who would cautiously subvert our most treasured beliefs. There is ample proof that many of the key artists employed in the designing of Christmas cards have Communist front affiliations and are engaged in subversive activities against our government.

According to the D.A.R. Magazine for Nov. 1957: "The winner of the Hallmark Art award for Christmas cards in 1952 was Anton Retrengier. (247, 48, 49) Reports Un-American Activities in California. Regardless of this record, he received $2000 prize money for a weirdly designed tree with a Picasso dove in suspension above it. (This too was a sly introduction of the Communist symbolism for "peace"). A further use to which this contest was put was the country-wide exhibition of the 100 best cards; the admission fee was given to U.N.E.S.C.O."

U.N.I.C.E.F.'s Greeting Cards.

Not to be left out of a sure money-making program is the free-enterprise destroying program of U.N.I.C.E.F. Their "Greeting Card" folder (you can't call Christmas cards Christmas cards) carries the spiel about the im-vestments in greeting cards helping children in some far off lands. All the conjured up emotion of Madison Avenue is wrapped up in the words of their brochure: "When you use U.N.I.C.E.F. cards you will enjoy the satisfaction of knowing that your holiday greetings to your friends and loved ones have helped make children somewhere in the world healthier and happier."

The first issue of the WEEKLY CRUSADER Vol. 1, No. 1, exposed U.N.I.C.E.F. for its anti-American structure and operation. Since that time, ample new material has come to our office further supporting the facts outlined in our initial exposure. These facts will be presented in later issues of the WEEKLY CRUSADER.

The first card presented by U.N.I.C.E.F. in their 1960 Xmas (Christmas without Christ) selection shows Indian children of Arizona who have joined hands in a ceremonial dance. As with most of the U.N.I.C.E.F. cards, these can be bought with the five language Season's Greetings or without for use as notes. The five languages are English, French, Spanish, Russian and Chinese -- the official languages of the United Nations.

The second and third pages present a hideous assortment beginning with -- of all things -- "The Ugly Duckling -- Denmark." Then, "The Legend of St. Nicholas -- Holland," "Snow White and Seven Dwarfs -- Brazil," "The Jade Slipper -- Korea" and "The Epic of Ramayana -- India." The next card is "The Poetry of Flight -- or soaring toward peace." This outlandish third grade level painting is designated the official United Nations card.

OUT OF MANY -- THERE IS ONE

Out of fairness to U.N.I.C.E.F. we must admit that one card, "Glad Tidings" makes a stab at the Christmas idea. Their brochure reads: "One of the best loved themes the world over is portrayed in the modern manner by internationally-famed artist Marc Chagall who has won acclaim for his interpretation of biblical stories." Note: U.N.I.C.E.F. chooses to not capitalize the 'b' on Biblical! This greeting says "Joyous Christmas" in three languages.

None of the 14 other cards put out by U.N.I.C.E.F. even hinted at the Scriptural teaching of Christ's birth. They dealt instead with "The Fountain of Peace," "Children and Birds" (a grotesque conglomeration of nonsense), "Fairy Godmother" and "Fairy Tale Shepherd."

Just as the U.N.I.C.E.F. officials have promoted the Trick or Treat drive through the churches to give their program respectability, they are using one of the most sacred and meaningful holidays (holy-days) of Christendom to promote their anti-Christ cards. Americans, falling into U.N.I.C.E.F.'s tender trap, are helping to destroy our nation through this greeting card hoax.

If you receive U.N.I.C.E.F. cards from your friends this Christmas, tell them the U.N.I.C.E.F. facts. Make them aware of the fallacy of big government organizations trying to do the job which could be done by private enterprise and Christian missions.

STEVENSON

At San Francisco on Sept. 9, 1952, Mr. Stevenson said, "When we Americans think of Communism we think of what we are going to lose. When many of the Asian peoples think of Communism they think of what they are going to gain." This would imply that the Chinese millions enslaved under Communism's brutal heel actually prefer their slavery to freedom. How naive can you get? Hundreds of thousands of refugees from Red dominated lands would be happy to set Mr. Stevenson straight on this all important misconception.

In the February 8, 1956 issue of National Review, J. B. Matthews, one of America's foremost authorities on Communism, showed that at least 52 members of Mrs. Roosevelt's "Stevenson For President" Committee had sponsored Communist fronts. In the article, Mr. Matthews raised the interesting question, "Does Mr. Stevenson share the views of his supporters who divide their energies between backing his candidacy on the one hand and backing Communist causes on the other?" We believe that Mr. Stevenson has answered the question for us in his speeches made since that time. Our readers are invited to draw their own conclusions.

THE CONGO AND THE UNITED NATIONS

1. We Lit The Fires Of Freedom

A Washington brainwasher employed this trite cliché on July 4th, 1960. To underline his knowledge of "inside dope," he reported on a confidential statement by a Belgian high official on the subject of the Congo and its very recent access to "independence" under a Prime Minister Lumumba who once served a sentence for embezzlement of 126,000 francs. This slight social error (with its implications of lack of character and moral integrity) seems to be characteristic of the new generation of popular leaders in the "under privileged" nations. None of them appear to have held normal jobs. The Castro brothers never earned an honest penny in their lives. Of course, they early learned a magic formula, operating from Jakarta to Havana; i.e., confiscate capitalist property and live off the "fat of the land" as long as it lasts.

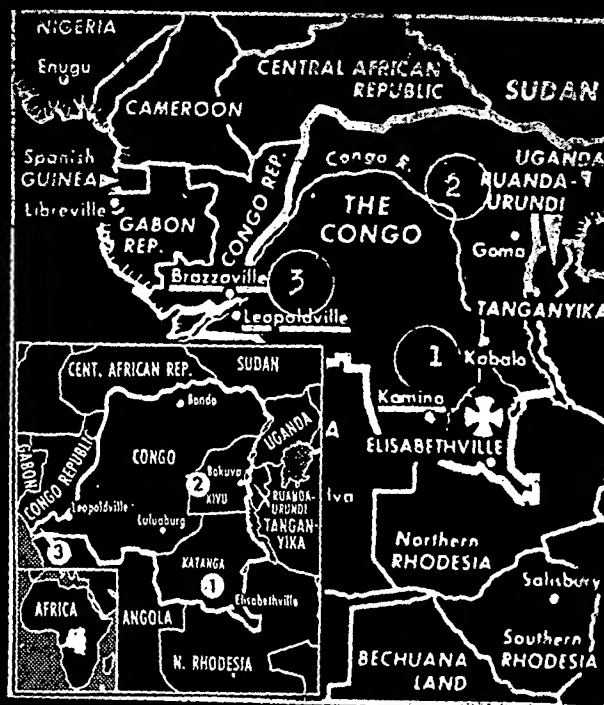

The Belgian is reported to have said accusingly that the drive for independence, for nationalistic expression, was primarily traceable to American influences and ideals. Jefferson, Lincoln and Roosevelt are the models which the new cafe-au-lait statesmen try to emulate. He failed to emphasize that none of these American leaders indulged in wholesale murder, executions, confiscations of property, the expulsion of entire populations, or an almost instantaneous embrace of international Communism and the dominance of the Kremlin.

Within a few days of the glittering headline, "We Lit the Fires of Freedom," the wire services reported the first sinister flickering of the red flames in the Congolese jungles. The fires of freedom looked like a well-planned case of arson! Here are the tell-tale extracts:

July 7. Mutinous Congo army soldiers broke into a factory in Lumbako and forced the white personnel to crawl at gunpoint, in front of African laborers. Whites were beaten and their homes searched for arms. There are reports of rape of European women and the "molestation" of Nuns at Mbanza-Boma.

Premier Lumumba tried to talk the mutineers into accepting Army control. Lumumba promised the mutineers one step advancement in rank (Reward or Appeasement?)

July 10. At Elizabethville, Belgian paratroopers saved some 4000 Whites this morning, including 16 Americans. Dropping from the skies over Luluabourg, the troopers arrived in the nick of time to save 1000 Whites holed up and fighting off a horde of Congolese soldiers, with shotguns, pistols and hunting rifles.

Map 1. The Belgian Congo: The Fires of Freedom?

Violence broke out in the Congo within days of the Inauguration of the new Republic. The scenes of barbarous atrocities by mutinous negro troops are located in the provinces of (1) Katanga; (2) Kivu and (3) Leopoldville. White refugees were seeking sanctuary in Brazzaville, formerly French, and in Ubunda. Leopoldville is dominated politically by President Ksavubu (5) while Premier Lumumba has strength in the North, in Orientale.

2. Washington, D. C.: A Delicate Whitewash

The peculiar atmosphere of the Capitol, the almost instant (and not always subtle) perversion of international news was easily evident in the zeal with which "Letters to the Editor" were given a prominent place on the editorial page. We are not prepared to accept the emotional nonsense of perennial letter-writers as a typical expression of prevailing popular opinion, but "someone" had carefully culled this material; the use of sly quotation marks and the selection were suggestive, viz:

"... News reports have been relying on accounts of white refugees. Thus we read natives are 'running wild' (Were they not?) and that white womanhood is being subjected to raping 'en masse'." (Were they not?)

Now, it is historically true that some incidents of this sort are bound to occur in any uprising or revolution. I am sure

COMMUNISTS PUSH FOR SECRETARY OF STATE

On January 20, 1961, a $25,000 per year appointee will walk into the new office of the Secretary of State on the seventh floor of the recently built State Department building in Washington. The world situation makes this particular appointment of utmost significance.

There are a number of political hopefuls who have been discussed for the position. Among them are: Chester Bowles; Senator Fulbright; Adlai Stevenson; General Gruenther and Dean Acheson. We are at this time especially concerned with the name of Adlai Stevenson as even a remote consideration. The basis for our concern comes from the pages of the Nov. 20, 1960 Worker, official weekly publication of the Communist Party U.S. We quote, "... Other Chicagoans, within 48 hours after the election (of Kennedy), called The Worker office in Chicago to inform us that many of the strong supporters of Adlai Stevenson were writing letters to Kennedy calling for the appointment of the former Illinois governor as Secretary of State."

Why The Emphasis On Stevenson?

This apparent insignificant news item is important because the Communists have become more and more adept at gaining the specific goals they set for themselves. Recent issues of Political Affairs, the Communist monthly, have also spoken out favorably for Mr. Stevenson. There is no question that, should they choose to make Mr. Stevenson's appointment a major issue, they could generate a tremendous amount of "public opinion."

There is ample reason for the Communist Party's interest in Stevenson. If statements he has made in the past several years are any indication of his concept of the Communist conspiracy, his understanding is fuzzy indeed. Speeches he has made in the past indicate definite liberal and left-wing thinking to an alarming degree. But perhaps more than anything else, whenever the Communists speak favorably of an individual, it is safe to assume that they stand to gain ground as a result of his influence.

In a speech made at the University of Chicago on May 12, 1960, Mr. Stevenson said, "It seems to be both sad and ironic that the Communists have so largely succeeded in pre-empting and exploiting the cry for peace—which is surely the loudest and dearest sound in this war-weary, fright-

The files of this office reflect that the Christian Echoes National Ministry, Inc., is a charitable organization chartered under the State laws of the State of Oklahoma. It has as its official publication the monthly magazine "Christian Crusade." The organization occupies offices at 302 North Rosedale Avenue, Tulsa, Oklahoma, and was formed by one Reverend BILLY JAMES HARGIS. Locally, and in some literature published by the organization itself, the organization is known as the Christian Crusade.

BILLY JAMES HARGIS was formerly the pastor of the Disciples of Christ Church (Christian Church) in Sapulpa, Oklahoma, for four years. He departed Sapulpa in 1952 to enter the evangelistic field and to campaign against Communism. Since that time he has maintained a residence in Tulsa but has traveled throughout the world. Some of his activities include a semiannual launching of balloons carrying Bibles in Germany for travel into East Germany, the U.S.S.R. and other Iron Curtain countries.

In the fall of 1957, HARGIS visited the Dominican Republic, where he met and conferred with RAFAEL TRUJILLO and other Dominican Republic leaders. While there he obtained $10,000.00 support for his organization in return for published literature prepared by his organization. As a result of this activity, an investigation was conducted by the FBI for possible violation of the Registration Act.

TWO CANCEL TULSA TALKS

Former Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker and Sen. Strom Thurmond, D-SC., Tuesday canceled their speaking engagements at an anti-Communist leadership school to be sponsored by evangelist Billy Hargis here Jan. 29-Feb. 2.

Hargis said the men sent messages to him Tuesday afternoon saying that a change in schedule for the Senate Armed Forces Committee hearings on "muzzling" of military leaders forced them to cancel.

"While we are naturally disappointed by having to replace them, we recognize the vital importance of these hearings to the security of America," Hargis said in a statement.

Registration for the anti-communist school, to be held at the Mayo Hotel here, has been limited to 250. Thurmond's and Walker's appearances, however, were to have been open to the public and were scheduled for Municipal Theater. Replacements for the two speakers will be announced soon, Hargis said.

Tulsa's Hargis: for Profit or Real, a Vocal Anti-Red

By GORDON FALLIS

Tribune City Editor

Fascism is no threat to the United States today!

At least that is the conclusion if you look at the growing rightist movement through the eyes of Billy James Hargis, Tulsa evangelist and anti-Communist fighter.

"I could keep moving to the right of the present liberalist thinking and never become a threat to individual liberties," Hargis declared in an interview today. "The only thing I demand is preservation of American ideals through less and less government control, not more and more and more...."

"THOSE WHO FEAR THAT IF the trend to the right continues we eventually will wind up fighting communism with facism are only throwing up a smoke screen.

"Fascism is just the same as communism and nazism and all the other isms. It's government control and I'm against that."

Hargis is a minister of the gospel in the Christian Church. There seems to be some difference of opinion on how popular a minister he was in neighboring Sapulpa. Some now say that he split the congregation. He vigorously denies this.

Anyway when he resigned his pastorate there in 1950 his flock gave him a tremendous farewell party.

The youthful Hargis (he's 36 but looks somewhat older because of his tremendous bulk) got started on his Communist hunt at the age of 17 through the guidance of a Christain Church missionary who had retired into the Kiamichi Mountains in southeastern Oklahoma.

He declares he became thoroughly convinced he was on the right track when at the age of 20 he confronted a minister of his church with the fact that communistic influences might be taking control of Christianity as practiced in America.

Hargis claims the minister's "so-what" response so infuriated him he vowed to dedicate himself in any way possible to stop the growth of communism.

There now seems to be some public difference of opinion on why Hargis joined the arch conservative movement. Some think he say a good thing coming and hopped on a profitable bandwagon. And there is no doubt Hargis lives in a fashion beyond the wildest dreams of most ministers.

There also is a charge that Hargis controls Nutri-Bio, a nationally distributed product which the U. S. Food and Drug Administration says is falsely advertising certain health benefits.

To all these accusations, Hargis shouts a vigorous "No."

No matter what the reason,

Hargis now appears willing to devote any amount of time necessary to get his anti-Red message over to the people.

He moves into every area of the nation every year, either with personal appearances or pamphlets devoted to what he calls his "educational program."

Although headquarters for the Christian Crusade, as Hargis calls his operation, are in Tulsa, the director is here only one week out of every four. He speaks 20 nights out of every 30 and does all his traveling in a leased "land cruiser" bus, equipped with living quarters, an office and recording studios for his radio broadcasts that are carried over 250 stations.

He claims an average mail of 2,000 letters daily and says his average daily outgoing postage bill is somewhere around $750. Of the 2,000 letters, he tries to personally answer about 100 a day.

Others are classified by the office staff and are answered by one of several form letters that are personalized with a mechanical duplication of Hargis' signature to make them look as "personal as possible."

Together with retired Gen. C. A. Willoughby, a former Douglas MacArthur aide, he publishes a weekly analysis of national and international news. He writes a weekly column on the threats from communism which he says is carried by more than 200 newspapers. There are also at least 26 television shows produced annually.

"Ours is purely an educational program," Hargis declares.

"We have the most extensive files anywhere on this matter of communism, and we are trying to get that word to the people. Every congressional hearing on the subject is on file in our office; nearly every professor who joined either a Communist or a Communist-front organization—at least since 1926—is recorded here; every book and pamphlet published by a Communist, the Communist party, or Communist-front group is in our files.

"I make speeches daily against Communists and their followers, but I never list a man or an agency as Communist or Communist-front until it is so listed by an agency of the U.S. government."

"THAT'S WHY IT IS SO ESSENTIAL for us to have every article published on the matter.

"These records are open to any legitimate state or U.S. agency. Why just recently the state of Louisiana used our files—sent their own men up here to do research for an investigation of communism in New Orleans. We didn't receive a penny from the state to further our work, but we were glad to help.

"I don't understand all these people raising a fuss about the rightist movement. All we are saying is that communism is wrong because it violates individual liberties, destroys Christianity.

"Communism is government control and we're against that. How can they say then we are a danger?"

As an example of unwanted controls, Hargis suggests a close look at airline operations.

"Some airlines lose money and so the suggestion is made that we subsidize them because they are essential to public transportation. Well, railroads are certainly losing money. Shall we fully subsidize them? And the bus company. Local bus firms are falling flat. Shall we subsidize them, too? If so, then there is nothing left that isn't subsidized and we have complete government control.

"WHAT WE ARE DOING IN the United States today is wrong, I say. All we (the Christian Crusade) are asking is that we—meaning the United States government, which is the people—stop and look for a new answer."

—Sen. Goldwater the answer? Hargis was asked.

"Partly," he said. "At least we should listen to what ~~his type of~~ thinker is saying. They may be the answer, but we will never know unless we listen and study what they are saying."

Hargis is firmly convinced that the United States is on a road to appeasement. And he is convinced this soft attitude won't help in the fight against Communist Russia.

"WE GOT TOUGH WITH HITLER and we beat him. We need the same principles in this fight.

"Look at the record. Communism is enslaving more and more peoples, we therefore are losing more and more from our way of thinking.

"The United Nations isn't helping apparently. It didn't save Hungary, it isn't doing much in Africa, and it didn't stop the recent aggression by India.

"Something must be done. We must dissolve the present UN and rebuild it with only those nations who honor their treaties and obligations. We must make it a thing of honor."

HARGIS IS CONVINCED THAT Haiti and the Dominican Republic will go Communist within the next 24 months. He believes the U.S. government must share much of the responsibility for this.

"Just as in Cuba, we tried to supplant Batista with a form of "people government" like our own, but the Cubans were not ready for this form of government. Now we are worse off than under the Dictator Batista. At least he was friendly to us.

"The same thing is happening in other Latin countries. We have failed to support the present governments because they are dictatorships. They are being overthrown and are going to be supplanted by something much worse for us—communism."

"No dictatorship is desirable, but isn't it better to count on a man like Trujillo than on one like Castro? At least Trujillo always voted with us in the United Nations. His successor undoubtedly will help the Communists outvote us.

"YOU NEWSPAPERS ARE part of the American act of softness. Why is it you always refer to Dictator Trujillo and Dictator Duvalier of Haiti, but President Castro and Premier Khrushchev?"

"Dictator has an ugly sound. Why do you use it in referring to leaders who are friendly to us and then give some dignity through such words as president and premier to such ugly men as Castro and Khrushchev?"

"Label them for what they are, label everything for what it is and we will win this fight."

Hargis' enthusiasm apparently extends all the way from communism to art. His office is littered with statues of Joan of Arc and crusaders of other bygone days. In addition, he proudly exhibits paintings which he claims hung in the Vatican.

These and other treasures given him by his admirers—including Gen. Willoughby—will become part of a display at his new headquarters if and when he wins his fight against the zoning ban imposed on him by the Tulsa Metropolitan Planning Commission. This is another form of government control to which Hargis violently objects.

Hargis has hopes of building a two-story structure at about 28th Street and Sheridan Avenue, but the planners have heeded protests from residents of the area and thus far turned him down. He is planning to resubmit his case soon.

HARGIS VIGOROUSLY OPPOSES use of the word "Reverend" in referring to ministers. He claims this tends to set them above the ordinary man, and he insists this is the wrong approach. He is inclined to make this a personal objection, but it also must be noted that very few members of his denomination accept the term. They prefer to be called "Mister."

Hargis says many cities have offered locations for his headquarters, but he is not inclined to leave Tulsa. He has a magnificent home here owned by the Crusade organization and he and his wife are buying a ranch north of Tulsa.

Hargis has established his name in the United States through his vocal opposition to liberalist thinking. But a big part of his operation here is evangelism. His organization recently purchased a large publishing house and rights to all its religious books and articles. Much of his mail deals with this phase of his operation, he declares.

His organization—with Hargis as the guiding hand in much of the writing—puts out a regular Bible study course. One of his great ambitions, he says, is to establish an organization headed by 50 ministers to teach the Bible.

His offices here at 9 W. Fourth St. include a recording and broadcasting studio. Perhaps one of the most impressive sights presented on entering are the giant portraits of Hargis and his wife which hang opposite the door to the main office entrance.

The money for his $90,000-a-year operation is provided in a good part by small contributions that come in daily letters. However, the Crusade also puts out a monthly magazine at $1 a year and claims a paid circulation of 100,000.

The money is counted by three persons in a locked money room off the main office entrance. Their reports are submitted to Hargis and the board of trustees, of which he is president. Hargis says he has the Oklahoma-chartered corporation set up in such a manner that he personally is unable to write any checks.

Hargis will bend over backwards to see visitors—especially those from other states where he is hoping to "catch on."

At the moment it appears he is running a one-man operation. When asked about a successor, he sighs with something that sounded like exhaustion. "Many of the people right here in the organization could take over if anything happened to me, but about a permanent successor—well, I just don't know...."

But Hargis' exhaustion is momentary. "Communism gets me plenty stirred up," he says.

INFORMATION CONCERNING

Enclosed for the information of the Bureau is one copy of an article which appeared in the 12/17/61 issue of The Tulsa Daily World, a daily newspaper published at Tulsa, Oklahoma. This article concerns the Christian Crusade National Anti-Communist Leadership School scheduled to be held in Tulsa, Oklahoma, 1/29 to 2/2/62 at the Mayo Hotel. The article states that BILLY JAMES HARGIS is founder-director of the Tulsa anti-Communist organization. The article also states that speakers at the school will include General EDWIN A. WALKER, center of controversy over indoctrinating American troops in Germany against Communism and who resigned from the United States Army after being rebuked; EDDIE RICKENBACKER, famed World War I flying ace and Chairman of the Board of Eastern Air Lines; Senator STROM THURMOND of South Carolina, member of the Armed Services Committee; Representative GORDON SCHERER of Ohio, a member of the House Committee on Un-American Activities; and BENJAMIN GITLOW, former head of the Communist Party in America.

On 12/18/61 JACK PURDIE, Assistant Chief of Police, Tulsa, Oklahoma, advised SA [REDACTED] that he was aware of the fact that Tulsa Evangelist BILLY JAMES HARGIS is associated with the proposed Christian Crusade National Anti-Communist Leadership School which is scheduled to be held in Tulsa during the latter part of January 1962, however up until 12/16/61 no request had been made by this group to the Tulsa Police Department for assistance in connection with parking or other matters b7c which might be associated with a meeting of this type. PURDIE stated it was his understanding registration for the five-day school will cost $100.00. He said that when such a meeting is held in the city, the group usually contacts the Mayor or the Board of Commissioners and makes the meeting known to these parties. He said that as far as he knew, no contact had been made to date with the Mayor or the Board of Commissioners.

For the further information of the Bureau, The 12/8/61 issue of Time Magazine contained an article on page 23 entitled "We, The People", which is one of several articles appearing on pages 22 and 23 under the caption "Organizations." This article states as follows: "We, The People!, an organization that claims membership in 1700 communities in all 50 states, is run out of a plain, three-room Chicago office by Harry Everyingham, 53, a former radio writer and adman who formed the organization seven years ago. Everyingham believes that the Communist takeover in the U.S. is well along and that 'there are many who are working with the Communists to accomplish this.' The titular president of his organization is Tulsa Evangelist Billy Hargis, 36, whose material formed the base for an Air Force manual attacking the Protestant clergy last year. Hargis is convinced that Christianity is a fine place for Communist infiltration because 'the Christian idea of brotherhood means to a lot of people turning the other cheek.'"

For the additional information of the Bureau, BILLY JAMES HARGIS, President and Founder of Christian Crusade, Tulsa, Oklahoma, was interviewed by Bureau Agents on 7/14/60 in connection with the case entitled "HUGH LYNN ADAMS; EMMETT E. MILLER; ROBERT LLOYD PARKS; Attempted Bombing of Philander Smith College, Little Rock, Arkansas, 7/12/60, BOMBING MATTERS," as set forth in report of SA [REDACTED] dated 8/16/60 at Oklahoma City, in which the Little Rock Division was the office of origin. At that time HARGIS was interviewed as being a possible suspect in connection with that case and a signed statement was taken from him. b7C

The Bureau will be advised of any pertinent developments in this matter.

Ex-Communist Leader to Speak At Anti-Red Leadership School

Barbara Hartle, a former Communist Party leader who served a prison term for violation of the Smith Act and later was pardoned by President Eisenhower, will be a featured speaker at evangelist Billy James Hargis' Christian Crusade National Anti-Communist Leadership School here.

The school will be held Jan. 29-Feb. 2, at the Mayo Hotel.

Miss Hartle first was a member of a Communist front organization, "The Friends of the Soviet Union." She became an active member of the Communist Party in 1934.

After being assigned to influence and recruit party workers at a bomber plant, she worked as a member of the Communist underground.

MISS HARTLE She was arrested in 1952 on a charge of failure to register as a foreign agent and received a five-year prison term and a $1,000 fine. She abandoned an appeal and was paroled after serving two years in prison. She received a pardon from President Eisenhower after she testified before several investigating bodies, including the San Francisco hearings of May 1960, which were filmed in the controversial movie "Operation Abolition."

Four Projects Under Study

Hargis Seeks Views On Anti-Red Course

The possibility of inaugurating four projects, including courses on how to battle communism effectively and how to organize Bible study clubs, has been announced by Billy James Hargis, Tulsa anti-Communist evangelist.

The four proposed projects were outlined in the December edition of Christian Crusade, a magazine published by the organization of the same name which the evangelist founded and directs. The article asks the opinions of supporters of the organization.

The Tulsan already has announced plans for a five-day anti-Communist school to begin here the latter part of January. It will feature 14 well-known speakers, including investigators and former American Communist party leaders.

THE FIRST PROPOSAL CALLS for an anti-Communist study course, which would contain a manual of instructions explaining how to organize local study groups to meet once a week in homes for either 13 or 26 weeks. Taped lectures and literature would be provided by Christian Crusade.

The second proposal calls for organization of an associate evangelist board, designed to represent Christian Crusade, Inc., in lecturing to churches, schools and civic clubs in behalf of the organization. Ministers who would become members of the board would be asked to come to Tulsa for a brief period of schooling. This proposal cited the busy speaking schedule of Hargis.

ALSO OUTLINED WERE TENTATIVE plans for the organization of Bible Study Clubs, which would meet in homes of members either weekly or monthly. Dr. Hargis announced that he is considering launching a new department of Home Bible Study at Christian Crusade.

The fourth project calls for the addition of 100 new radio stations and 20 new television stations in the organization's network.

Hargis Denies Tie With Health Pills

From The Tribune's
Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2—A Tulsa evangelist today denied he owns or controls Nutri-Bio health pills, a nationally distributed product under fire from the U.S. Food and Drug Administration.

Pete White, Tulsa public relations aide to Evangelist Billy James Hargis, founder and director of Christian Crusade, Inc., said the evangelist has categorically denied charges made today in a nationally syndicated newspaper column.

Columnist Drew Pearson declared that Hargis produces the pills through Abundavita Corp. Actor Bob Cummings is vice president.

"OUR ONLY CONNECTION with Nutri-Bio," White said, "is three ads they took in our magazine. The ads didn't say anything about (the pills) being a curative."

The Food and Drug Administration said Nutri-Bio literature "represents and suggests that the vitamin and mineral tablets . . . are adequate and effective for the prevention of heart trouble, hardening of the arteries, rheumatism, respiratory infections, impotency, frigidity, nervousness, loss of weight, loss of appetite, anemia, pyorrhea, chronic diarrhea" and many other ailments.

"Mr. Hargis has no connection with Nutri-Bio," White said. "He is neither an officer nor a distributor."

"He has, however, been taking the pills himself for about six months."

White said Hargis declined to personally endorse the pills to members of his Christian Crusade.

Reporter magazine recently told of an aide to Hargis selling the tablets.

A SPOKESMAN FOR THE Food and Drug Administration said today that records on Nutri-Bio do not disclose any connection between Hargis and the company.

"Approximately 75,000 distributors now handle his (Hargis) pills, and his disciples display black and green Nutri-Bio stickers as if they were patriotic emblems," Pearson asserted in his Bell Syndicate column.

Retired Army Man to Speak On 'Survival'

Maj.-Gen. Charles A. Willoughby, Gen. Douglas MacArthur's former chief of intelligence, will speak at a "Survival U.S.A." rally at Tulsa's Municipal Theater in conjunction with an anti-Communist school here Jan. 29-Feb. 2.

Willoughby, Washington representative for Christian Crusade, sponsor of the anti-Red school, also will lecture at the school.

He is co-editor of the Christian Crusade's publication, "The Weekly Crusader." He also writes a syndicated newspaper column. Willoughby, who retired in 1951, has remained active as a lecturer and author.

A prolific writer, Willoughby's books include MacArthur, 1941-51, and Shanghai Conspiracy — The Sorge Spy Ring.

His military career began in 1910 when he enlisted in the regular army. He served with the Fifth U.S. Infantry until 1913. In that year he enrolled at Pennsylvania College, Gettysburg, Pa. Upon graduation, Willoughby was commissioned a major in the Officers Volunteer Corps, and was commissioned in the regular army in 1916.

Also during his long career, Willoughby served with the AEF in France and became a military attache in South America after World War I.

Willoughby figured in the defense of the Philippines and remained with MacArthur from Bataan and Corregidor and on to Australia. He retired shortly after start of the Korean war.

Anti-Red Leader School Opening Set for Monday

The first annual National Anti-Communist Leadership School opens Monday at the Mayo Hotel. Approximately 500 persons from 26 states, the District of Columbia and Manitoba, Canada, are expected to attend.

The school, which will hold three sessions daily Jan. 29 through Feb. 2, is "to help Americans with leadership qualities prepare themselves for leading roles in their own communities in the fight to preserve constitutional government and Christian freedom."

Faculty for the school is composed of 14 of the country's well-known conservative leaders, as well as experts on espionage, military preparedness and diplomacy.

"We were most concerned earlier in the month," said Billy James Hargis, founder and director of Christian Crusade, the sponsoring organization, "because weather conditions were hampering early registrations."

Reservations Triple

Hargis added, however, that Thursday, Friday and Saturday saw reservations for the school tripled and he said he expected many more registrants Monday.

Two public rallies, "Survival, U.S.A.," will be presented in conjunction with the school, and will be held Wednesday and Thursday nights at Tulsa Municipal Theater. Both meetings are open to the public with tickets for $1 each.

Speakers for the two rallies are also members of the faculty for the school.

Wednesday night's speakers are Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker, World War I ace and chairman of the board of Eastern Airlines, and Gen. C. A. Willoughby, former intelligence chief for Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

Ex-Red Chief on Faculty

Thursday's speakers will be Benjamin Gitlow, former head of the American Communist Party, who split with the Kremlin in 1929, and Matt Cvetic, for nine years an undercover agent of the FBI, who successfully infiltrated the Communist Party in America.

J. Bracken Lee, mayor of Salt Lake City and former Utah governor, will speak at noon Monday at the Downtown Kiwanis Club.

Faculty for the school, in addition to Lee, Willoughby, Gitlow, Rickenbacker, Cvetic, and Hargis, are Barbara Hartle, former West Coast Communist leader; Edward Hunter, foreign correspondent and psychological warfare expert; Myers Lowman, head of Circuit Riders, an anti-Communist research group.

Also Dr. R. P. Oliver, University of Illinois professor; R. Carter Pittman, Georgia constitutional law expert; Rep. Gordon Scherer of Ohio, member of the House Un-American Activities Committee; Mrs. Harry Alexander, Mississippi investigator of Communist-inspired textbooks; and Gen. William P. Campbell, former U.S. Army chief of finance.

Hargis Demands Attorney General Quit for Failing to Prosecute Reds

By BILL SAMPSON

Evangelist Billy James Hargis warmed up his anti-Red leadership school here today by demanding Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy resign for not prosecuting unregistered Communists in the United States.

The school was "seing Red" in the Supreme Court, the Constitution, colleges, foreign aid, the European Common Market, and the right-to-work law controversy during the second day of the five-day meeting at the Mayo Hotel.

Hargis, director of the Christian Crusade which is sponsoring the school, called for President Kennedy's younger brother to press prosecution of unregistered Communists or resign.

"THE LAW REQUIRES THAT the Communists in this country register with the Justice Department but to date none have registered," Hargis said in a speech at the afternoon session.

"It seems the attorney general is letting them get away with it. He says there are 'prosecution difficulties.'

"He has not hesitated to prosecute millions of Southerners on the question of integration, but he will not prosecute 10,000 known Communists in this country.

"As a Christian I must demand that the attorney general obey the law or resign the office," Hargis said. He asked those present to write their congressmen repeatedly until "the attorney general does something about it."

A LIVELY QUESTION-AND-ANSWER session followed Hargis' speech, although it appeared some of the answers may have been prepared in advance.

Those on a panel answering questions were R. Carter Pittman, Georgia attorney, state

The anti-Communist school being conducted here has no connection with a crusade under way in Oakland, Calif. The Tulsa meeting is sponsored by Christian Crusade, a movement founded by Billy James Hargis. The California meeting is conducted by the Christian Anti-Communist Crusade founded by an Australian physician, Dr. Fred C. Schwarz. For that story please turn to page 11.

Democratic party leader, and constitutional authority; Dr. R. P. Oliver, professor of classics at the University of Illinois; Edward Hunter, former foreign correspondent and authority on Asia, and Hargis.

Some of the questions, with the name of the person answering in parentheses, were:

Q. What can be done about shortening the terms of Supreme Court judges?

A. (Pittman) We can't leave their appointment to each President to use for swapping the jobs for votes or support. That's no good. But we can find a way to allow the people to elect them. If our Supreme Court justices were elected the court would not be in the condition it is in today—nearing anarchy.

Q. Should communism be taught in our schools and is it already being taught there?

A. (Dr. Oliver) Courses on contemporary problems usually are sheer, pure, unadulterated communism with a little polish on the surface. Giving a course on communism would be an ideal opportunity for some Communist in our schools.

Q. How successful have the Communists been in destroying our Constitution?

A. (Pittman) I think they have found it very useful and now they don't want to destroy it. All they have to do to get the Constitution to do what Communists want it to do is interpret it. It means what the justices say it means. Communists no longer are subverting the Constitution; they are using it, perverting it.

Q. Are Communists working against the right-to-work laws proposed in Oklahoma and other states?

A. (Hargis referred this question to Julian Williams, head of the Christian Crusade research department.) Yes, Communists are very much against right-to-work laws. I think the right to join or not join should apply to unions as well as churches. In my opinion, it is un-American to force any citizen to join any organization.

Q. What can we students do to forward conservative thought on campus?

A. (Dr. Oliver) First, be sure you know well a body of facts relevant to communism. Libraries provide an excellent check on the propaganda administered to you in class. I don't know what college you attend, but it is very unlikely you are in a college which has not been infiltrated.

Q. Is the European Common Market connected with a follow-up of the Marshall Plan for foreign aid?

A. (Pittman) I haven't studied the Common Market closely. I don't know where that thing is going but I don't want to ride with it.

(Dr. Oliver) It is part of the Communist design to break the back of the American economic system. Experts tell me we are not in a position to compete in the Common Market. They say we would have to lower the quality of our production to junk or else double the prices for it.

(Hargis) The Common Market has all the earmarks of international economic conspiracy.

J. Bracken Lee, mayor of Salt Lake City, said he believed there would be a dictatorship in this country by 1968 unless "there is a rebellion at the polls in 1964." He spoke at a Monday evening session.

Lee refused to pay his federal income taxes as governor of Utah during the administration of former President Harry Truman until the President assured him none of his tax money would be used to send foreign aid to Communist nations. Lee was critical of income tax laws in his speech.

Anti-Reds Hear Speech On 'White Supremacy'

By Ed Montgomery
(Of The State Staff)

TULSA — The Anti-Communist Leadership School meeting here heard a lecture on "white supremacy" Monday night.

R. Carter Pittman, a Georgia attorney, charged the World War II history of the Negro 92nd Infantry division was taken out of the Pentagon files and rewritten to make the division look better.

He said the name of the man who gave the order would cause a sensation, but he was sworn not to reveal it. He suggested a congressional investigation.

The talk seemed to collide head-on with statements that the Christian Crusade, which is sponsoring the school, is not anti-Negro.

Dr. Billy James Hargis, director of the Christian Crusade, did not comment on the speech as such but he did say in opening Tuesday morning's session:

"There were a lot of things said here yesterday that I don't agree with."

He said the Christian Crusade did not attempt to tell speakers what to speak on or censor their speeches.

Pittman traced theories of racial equality to Russian scientists. He insisted Negroes are inferior to whites in intelligence and said those who have made significant contributions have almost all been mulatto or near white.

He said Negro combat troops in the American army had stampeded "in every instance where they were battle tested that we have been able to find."

Earlier J. Bracken Lee, former governor of Utah, spoke out against the income tax. He said the American people lost control of their constitution when the income tax amendment was passed.

There are only two fundamental forms of government, he said: the people run the government or the government runs the people.

Lee defended his support of the John Birch Society, the Christian Crusade and other controversial groups.

"As soon as I am convinced that an organization is working to return to our constitutional form of government," he said, "I give it my support."

The five-day school which features nationally known anti-Communist speakers runs through Friday. It has attracted delegates from 23 states and Canada and is receiving nationwide press, television and magazine coverage.

OPEN LETTER TO THE PRINCIPAL OFFICER OF EACH OF TULSA'S CIVIC, FRATERNAL, OR SERVICE ORGANIZATIONS

If you are not currently the principal officer of your organization, please forward this letter to him or her. This letter contains details concerning what undoubtedly will be one of your greatest opportunities to serve your country this year.

This is your opportunity: to help underwrite a project to place 10,000 copies of J. Edgar Hoover's "Masters of Deceit" on every level of education in Tulsa's secondary schools. This appeal is being made to you as well as 79 other organizations, and I believe all of you will respond to carry out what Mr. Hoover recently described: "Under the American system, local community action is fundamental. On this basic level, the private citizen, individually and through his civic, labor, religious, educational and similar organizations, acts to influence the life of the entire nation."

A similar project was successfully underwritten last May. I made an appeal to several organizations; through the response of 18 of them and several individuals, all Tulsa graduating high school seniors were presented a gift of "Masters of Deceit." You will find enclosed a copy of Mr. Hoover's letter giving his reaction and, also, a copy of Miss Donna McElroy's letter, graphically describing the benefits she received from the gift of the book.

In an enclosed copy of a letter from Mr. Kenneth McCharen, Supervisor of Social Studies, Tulsa Public Schools, he describes how many of the books of our current project will be used as reference material for a new unit of instruction, "A Comparative Study of American Ideals and Communism." The other books will be ~~also~~ available for general use of the schools.

Let Mr. Hoover himself present the necessity for alerting our youth. I quote from the first paragraph of his report, "Communist Target-Youth," his analysis of the Communist inspired rioting of youth at the House Committee on Un-American Activities hearings, San Francisco, May 12-14, 1960: "The successful Communist exploitation and manipulation of youth and student groups throughout the world today are a major challenge which free world forces must meet and defeat. Recent world events clearly reveal that world communism has launched a massive campaign to capture and maneuver youth and student groups. The vigor and vitality of such groups constitute an explosive force of immense proportions. Channeled into proper outlets, this force can accomplish immeasurable good for a peace-loving world. Manipulated into destructive channels, this force can create chaos."

I rest my entire appeal for placing the books in the public schools with the concluding words of Mr. Hoover's report: "All our hopes for the future of our country, as well as for a world at peace, are bound up with our hopes for the future of our Nation's youth. They will not fail us if we do not fail them. Only our apathy and laxity in the face of the threat which Communist infiltration efforts represent can cause such a failure. It is the duty of all Americans to fully understand the true import of this threat to our heritage, to expose it, and to combat it with every weapon at our command."

Now, if each of the 80 organizations to which I appeal pledge on a "SHOULD, CAN, MUST" BASIS, this project will be oversubscribed. A special price quotation of Oklahoma News Company is enclosed. The books are .36¢ each. Write your pledge or mail your check payable to Oklahoma News Company to me, D. E. McClendon, c/o Oklahoma Natural Gas Company, 624 S. Boston St., Tulsa, Okla., so I can coordinate this project. DO THIS BEFORE MARCH 15 so the books can be ordered in time for delivery by March 15th. If each of you will respond to this OPPORTUNITY, your example here in Tulsa will sweep across the nation for all other communities to emulate. LET'S START A WILDFIRE AGAINST THIS EVIL CONSPIRACY TO ENSLAVE ALL MANKIND, remembering that all that is necessary for the triumph of evil is for good men TO DO NOTHING.

OPEN LETTER TO PASTORS OF TULSA'S CHURCHES:

Gentlemen:

I believe that you and your church will want to help underwrite a project to place 10,000 of J. Edgar Hoover's books, "Masters of Deceit" in our schools.

The Apostle Paul stood against the evil Elymas as he opposed the gospel, saying: "You master of every form of deception....., you son of the devil, you enemy of every thing that is upright and good, will you never stop perverting and making crooked the straight paths of the Lord and plotting against His saving purposes? And now, lo, the hand of the Lord is upon you and you shall be blind....."

You, too, will want to oppose Khrushchev and his evil crew, the modern day "Masters of Deceit". On Page 299 of his book, Mr. Hoover makes Khrushchev's position clear by quoting from Khrushchev's affirmation of his hatred of religion: "Don't think that the communists have changed their minds about religion. We remain the ATHEISTS that we have always been; we are doing as much as we can to liberate those people who are still under the spell of this religious opiate." Should Khrushchev attain the ambition that he expressed in August of 1960, to see the Red Flag fly over all the world during his lifetime - he would, with all restraints removed, liquidate all Christians. Please see the last paragraph of the enclosed copy of Mr. Hoover's letter wherein he reveals the nature of our peril.

Last May I wrote to a number of civic, fraternal and service organizations. With the help of some of them and a few individuals, a copy of "Masters of Deceit" was given to every Tulsa high school graduating senior. The enclosed copy of a letter from Miss Donna McElroy is graphic proof of what good resulted from our efforts.

This year we shall need the help of every church in our city to get the truth to our young people who are the number one target of the communists. Will you, as a pastor, recommend to your church that it give at least 50 books? The books are 36 cents each. (See enclosed price quotation from Oklahoma News Company.)

Please make your check payable to Oklahoma News Company and mail to me, D. B. McClendon, Oklahoma Natural Gas Company, 624 South Boston Street, Tulsa, Oklahoma, so I can co-ordinate this project. (See Mr. Kenneth McCharen's letter enclosed.) Let us prove to Mr. Hoover that we have the faith to be free. "Ye shall know the truth and the truth shall make you free."

When Tulsa underwrites this project, our example will sweep across the nation for all other communities to emulate.

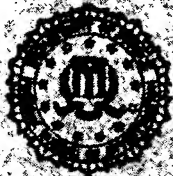

Sincerely yours,

Delmas B. McClendon

Dear Mr. McClendon:

Mr. Lee O. Teague, Special Agent in Charge of our Oklahoma City Office, has advised me of the outstanding example of public spirit shown by you in connection with the distribution of my book "Masters of Deceit" to graduating seniors in schools in Tulsa. I certainly feel that your efforts in seeking to inform young citizens concerning the dangers of communism are most worthwhile.

Communism today poses a serious threat to our American way of life. Its goal is to destroy our cherished freedoms and to establish a dictatorship of tyranny. Only by alerting ourselves to this menace can we effectively combat it.

Sincerely yours,
